Certification of Appraisal Practice, Contingent and Limiting Conditions

- #1 Unless otherwise stated this appraisal is not an offer to buy the appraised items at any price.
- #2 Applicable sales taxes are not included in appraisal values unless so stated.
- #3 Any financial interest in the appraised items or any other pertinent personal or financial interest will be clearly revealed in this report.
- #4 Possession of this report does not provide title to the items appraised. Appraisal values are based on the appraiser's assumption of whole ownership. This appraisal process does not discover liens, encumbrances, or financial interests, but if any are known they will be noted.
- #5 Appraisal values are the appraiser's best judgment and opinion and are based on the current market information. Past or future values will be clearly marked as such.
- #6 Unless expressly stated, the condition of the items appraised is good for their type with serious deficiencies and repairs noted. Ordinary wear and tear common to this type is not usually noted.
- #7 Possession of this report, any portion of this report, or any copy thereof DOES NOT INCLUDE THE RIGHT OF PUBLICATION without this appraisal firm's written consent. Public use of the name of the appraiser, appraisal firm name, or information contained in the appraisal is not granted. Use of this report in advertising is prohibited.
- #8 No Changes may be made to this report by anyone other than the appraisers who have signed this report. Gemological Consulting Services LLC cannot be responsible for unauthorized alterations. Copies of appraisals are kept by Gemological Consulting Services LLC for ten years from the date of preparation as specified by USPAP regulations.
- #9 The limited owner of this appraisal is the party for whom the report was performed.
- #10 The information in this report is confidential. We will seek the client's permission if requested to provide information to other parties, or unless legally compelled by court order.
- #11 Third parties may rely of the information in this report for the defined purpose and function only. Third parties requiring further information than what is in the report must obtain the written permission of the owner of the appraisal before we discuss the appraisal with them.
- #12 Periodic review of appraisal values is required due to economic fluctuations. Gemological Consulting Services LLC provides an expiration date as a benchmark for this purpose. The appraiser does not take on the responsibility to advise clients when values have changed. Clients must establish their own appraisal value review needs.
- #13 Hypothetical appraisals will be so noted.
- #14 Appraisal fees are based on time and not contingent on value or income.
- #15 Testimony, depositions, hearings or court attendance are not required by reason of rendering this report. Arrangements for these matters must be made in advance and in accordance with our then prevailing rates. A retainer will be required in advance.
- #16 The statements made in this report are true and correct.
- #17 The reported analyses, opinions and conclusions are limited only by the reported assumptions and limiting conditions.
- #18 The appraisers have made a personal, physical inspection of the objects specified in this report unless specified to the contrary.
- #19 Any significant appraisal assistance by another party will be so noted.
- #20. The analysis, opinions, conclusions, and valuations in this report were developed, and the report prepared, in conformity with widely accepted codes of ethics and standards of professional practice. NAJA and USPAP codes of ethical practice were observed.
- #21 Use of Gemological Institute of America (GIA) terminology does not represent an affiliation with Gemological Consulting Services, LLC in any way. In cases where an outside laboratory report is included in the appraisal, that report remains the opinion of that laboratory only and does not represent a warranty or guarantee on the part of Gemological Consulting Services, LLC.
- #22 Photographs are provided for identification purposes only and are not precise reproductions for determining color, size, and quality.
- #23 Where applicable this report contains stone characteristics described herein after it has been graded, tested, and analyzed by using techniques and equipment available to Gemological Consulting Services, LLC at the time of the appraisal. Larry Azose began his jewelry training at the age of nine under the tutelage of his father and grandfather. At the age of 18, prior to attending the University of Washington, he earned the prestigious Graduate Gemologist in Residence degree from the Gemological Institute of America.

For more than thirty years, Mr. Azose was actively engaged in the general management and customer service responsibilities of his family's boutique jewelry firm specializing in the custom design and manufacture of fine jewelry. Mr. Azose has extensive knowledge of jewelry manufacturing techniques, and an in depth understanding of the diamond and colored stone trade. From 1988 to 1990, Mr. Azose resided in Israel to gain a firsthand understanding of the wholesale diamond trade.

Mr. Azose was awarded the title of Accredited Senior Gemologist by the Accredited Gemologists Association and is a Member of the National Association of Jewelry Appraisers. He has provided guidance and appraisal services for the private sector for over thirty five years. He has also provided gemological training to employees of a major regional retailer, and consultation services for leading regional attorneys, banks, insurance adjusters, and local, federal and international law enforcement agencies.

Mr. Azose has been featured in local media as an expert on gems and jewelry.

Mr. Azose is an Eagle Scout and respected community activist dedicated to helping nonprofit organizations become more effective and institute best practices for strategic planning and board governance.
